

Clinical Reserves Unit (CRU)

Expression of Interest

COVID-19 has placed unprecedented pressure on the healthcare workforce. The Clinical Reserves Unit (CRU) deploys nominated staff to communities across rural and regional Victoria whose healthcare workforce is significantly affected by a COVID-19 outbreak.

Nominations are now open for senior and junior staff across medical, nursing and midwifery professions to volunteer as members of CRU. Nominees should be skilled and experienced clinicians in their area of practice, with the ability to rapidly adapt to a new setting where there is likely to be levels of uncertainty and disruption.

To complete the form please fill in each section, keeping your answers to the space provided.
